Foreword

Dear colleagues, associates and friends,

It is an honour to present to you the 25th edition of our annual UHPA Directory publication in its familiar, polished and practical format. A comprehensive who's-who with industry go-to contacts, promoting both Croatia and the Association of Croatian Travel Agencies (UHPA), the UHPA Directory has become a well-known international staple for travel professionals in Croatia and around the world.

Trimmed with the sleekest destinations and full of user-friendly details about our country and its tourism industry leaders, the pages ahead highlight and bring together the best of what Croatian tourism has to offer. UHPA's greatest asset – our vast body of members, regardless of their size, segment or niche, know Croatia better than anyone else and shoulder the kind of turn-over we are proud to describe as 'responsible' and 'sustainable' tourism. Relying on their support and know-how, UHPA manages to sustain the highest trade standards in pursuit of building Croatian tourism the right way.

Our members craft countless services and products into unique experiences by matching our country's exceptional diversity with the inclinations of well-meaning individuals who want to learn about its rich history, culture, and abundant natural beauty. As such, they remain master travel artisans and UHPA will continue to look for ways to build bridges and form new partnerships on their behalf.

Globally, crafting travel arrangements in circumstances of looming inflation and fickle supply amidst severe political upheaval is not easy for travel organizers, but we continue to adapt because we understand the human need to connect and that travel is an essential need. At the same time, our dedication to making the industry better pushes us forward, day in and day out. It is our understanding of human nature and a trade prerogative – to connect and to reinvent.

As such, UHPA continues to focus on promoting innovation and on building a more resilient and sustainable tourism, where strategic imperatives and trade interests thrive in full correlation. I would like to use this opportunity to thank Croatia's Ministry of Tourism and Sport and the Croatian National Tourist Board for their continued support and for recognizing the role of travel agents and touroperators in developing tourism responsibly.

I sincerely hope our 25th UHPA Directory brings you a little closer to our country and to working with Croats, your trusted travel artisans. We wish you all peace, good health and a world of success in the coming year!

Foreword

Dear readers, colleagues, and esteemed members of the tourism sector,

It is a great pleasure to have an opportunity to address you on behalf of the Ministry of Tourism and Sport on the occasion of the 25th edition of the UHPA Directory. This milestone represents not only the enduring presence of the Association of Croatian Travel Agencies but also the remarkable resilience and adaptability of our entire tourism industry.

Despite the many challenges our sector has faced in recent years, Croatia continues to hold a strong and enviable position on the international tourism stage.

Notably, we achieved the best pre-season results in our history, indicating a new era of Croatian tourism as a year-round destination. Moving forward, we remain committed to further enhancing Croatia's reputation as an attractive, high-quality, and sustainable destination throughout the year.

Through our reform we have provided tourist destinations with tools to better manage their future sustainable tourism growth in which travel agencies and DMC's play a crucial role.

As we continue to develop our tourism ecosystem, we anticipate even greater accomplishments in the future. The importance of travel agencies cannot be overstated – they are often the first point of contact for our guests and serve as ambassadors of Croatian tourism. Their role in connecting various stakeholders in the tourism industry with end customers is vital to our ongoing success. For this reason, I extend my deepest thanks to the Association of Croatian Travel Agencies and all tour operators for their dedication and hard work in creating unique experiences and travel arrangements, especially during the off-peak seasons and in the continental regions of our country.

Our shared mission is to position Croatia as a high-value, sustainable destination, renowned for its authentic and compelling tourist experience. Together, we are committed to showcasing the true beauty of our country, the diversity of our tourism products, and our dedication to sustainability and the development of year-round tourism. By doing so, we strengthen the Croatian tourism brand on a global scale.

In the future, our focus must remain on the quality of our tourist products and services, the satisfaction of our tourists and residents, and the strategic dispersion of tourist traffic across the country, particularly during the pre- and post-season periods. These guiding principles will not only enhance the competitiveness of Croatian tourism but also reinforce our position as the Mediterranean's most attractive tourist destination.

I look forward to our continued collaboration and the many successes we will undoubtedly achieve together.

Foreword

Dear readers, colleagues and tourism workers,

I am pleased to greet you in front of the Croatian National Tourist Board on the occasion of the 25th edition of the UHPA Directory.

Despite the numerous challenges that have followed the tourism sector for the past few years, we can proudly point out that Croatia, as a tourist destination, has maintained an excellent position in the international tourism market. The current trends confirm the above, i.e., the results of the Croatian tourism sector, so in the first eight months of the year, Croatia achieved 16.9 million arrivals and 89.4 million overnight stays, which compared to the same period last year represents a growth of four percent in arrivals and one percent in overnight stays, and the positive trends were maintained even during this post-season. We are especially pleased that with this result, we had the best pre-season in history. In the future, we will focus even more activities on further positioning our country as an attractive, high-quality, and sustainable year-round destination.

Travel agencies certainly contribute significantly to the achievements of Croatian tourism, which is why around six million arrivals are made in our country annually. With the further development of tourism and business processes, we expect even better results in the future. This importance is best expressed by the fact that agency representatives are often the first contact with our guests and thus represent Croatian tourism to them. They also play a crucial role in connecting other tourism stakeholders with end customers. That's why I thank the Association of Croatian Travel Agencies and all tour operators for the maximum effort and dedication in creating unique experiences and tourist arrangements, especially in periods outside the peak season and in the continental parts of our country.

Positioning Croatia as a sustainable destination of high value, as a destination with an authentic and attractive tourist offer, is a priority of our joint action. To improve the domestic tourism industry, we systematically emphasize the true beauty of our country, the diversity of the overall Croatian tourist offer, and care for the sustainability and development of year-round tourism while strengthening the brand of Croatian tourism at the world level.

The quality of the offer and service, the satisfaction of tourists and residents, the territorial dispersion of tourist traffic, and its strengthening in the pre- and post-season are the critical guidelines we should be guided by in the future. Through them and further successful cooperation, we will significantly contribute to the competitiveness of Croatian tourism, maintaining Croatia's status as the most desirable tourist destination in the Mediterranean.

About UHPA

Representing Travel Agents and
Tour Operators for over 30 years

Founded in 1992, UHPA - or the Association of Croatian Travel Agencies, has grown to become one of Croatia's leading and most influential trade associations, representing the professional interests of travel agents, tour operators and other tourism and business service providers.

For over 30 years, UHPA has remained true to the mission and vision outlined by its founding members.

Today, UHPA members, over 220 travel agencies, tour and online operators, intermediaries and wholesalers, shoulder a significant share of the overall tourism turnover in Croatia. UHPA also represents over 100 associated members hailing from the hospitality industry, transportation companies, tourist boards, associations, attractions, educational institutions and various other tourism suppliers.

Internationally, UHPA also stands for member interests, aligning itself with the world's most prominent tourism organizations and industry associations. UHPA is a member of ECTAA and nurtures long-standing reciprocal relationships with the most powerful European and non-European associations of travel agencies and tour operators such as ABTTA, ACTA, AČCKA, ANVR, ASR, ASTA, ATTA, APAVT, JATA, MUISZ, SACKA, SMAL, SRF, YUTA and ZTAS.

UHPA has initiated and implemented, independently or in partnership with various professional associations in Great Britain, the Netherlands, Germany, Portugal, Finland, Poland, Greece, Latvia, Bulgaria, Italy, Belgium, Montenegro, Slovenia and Croatia, a number of projects aimed at developing corporate social responsibility, innovative tourism products, strengthening competences, enhancing service and business operation quality and the competitiveness of its members.

UHPA continues to work closely with the Croatian Ministry of Tourism and Sport and the Croatian National Tourist Board on various projects of national significance. Our collaborations aim to increase the number of organized visits and overnight stays in the pre and post-season through the development of special interest market offers and the operation of destination management companies. These endeavours also make a point of promoting sustainable business models and the improvement of service quality. Additionally, UHPA obligates its members to a strict Code of Ethics, fulfilling its mission to contribute to the responsible development of Croatian tourism and ensuring Croatian travel agencies and tour operators have that competitive edge.

Travel agents and tour operators are essential to tourism flows. Being the first in line to communicate with end-users, they hold the keys to building consumer confidence in a way that reduces the negative impacts of tourism on the environment and helps local communities grow. We at UHPA are strongly committed to supporting our members in developing both their operating standards and resiliency. In doing so, UHPA contributes to building the overall quality of Croatian tourism and the strength of the country's economy.

While firmly defending the travel agent and tour operator trade for over 30 years, UHPA continues to support tourism progress and maintain its position, relevance and strength as a trade association. The UHPA office, with its five employees and a large number of external associates, is committed to fulfilling the association's mission and vision. We are steady in our belief that our activities shape the service quality of tourism products and contribute to the professional success of our members.

It is with confidence that we therefore invite you to choose one of our active or associated members as your trusted business partners in Croatia.

Despite changing industry dynamics, running on live, human contact and interaction, tourism undoubtedly has a bright, global future. UHPA is here for it.

UHPA Activities

Travel agencies and tour operators in Croatia have come such a long way since Croatia's first travel bureau opened its doors in Zagreb, a little over a hundred years today. As their professional association, for the last thirty years, through a number of different initiatives, UHPA has sharpened the focus of travel agencies in Croatia on building sustainable operations, positioning special interest tourism products and implementing quality management procedures. In retrospect, focused on building value, over the years, UHPA has seen the trade expand and evolve with every industry shift, segment dynamic and uncertainty.

To UHPA pushing for quality over quantity always made sense

The challenges facing travel agents and tour operators now only underline the importance of those elementary convictions, of that vision. Always with an eye on the latest industry trends, UHPA works to enhance member capacities by organising conferences, workshops and training programs, principally with the support of the Croatian Ministry of Tourism and Sport and the Croatian National Tourist Board, but also independently through national and EU-level initiatives.

Recognizing that UHPA members, Croatia's top tour operators and travel agents, are directly involved in creating, managing and developing Croatia's tourism offer, our projects have, without exception, been dedicated to promoting service excellence and reliability. Upholding professionalism on all fronts – particularly in motivating travel sector personnel to attain additional qualifications, learn new skills and share best practices, plays into this ceaseless mission. Having adopted the UNWTO Global Code of Ethics in 2014, UHPA has committed its time and energy to the highest standards of corporate social responsibility with the aim of promoting sustainable tourism, with emphasis on the protection of human and labour rights, the environment and on limiting corruption.

Over the years our project activities have placed emphasis on: developing new tourism products (DMC support programs), curbing seasonality (special interest tourism development, segment dedicated and cross-border), promoting corporate social responsibility (sustainability practices, social entrepreneurship, voluntourism initiatives, the Travelife scheme), quality management (multi-site ISO certification), the importance of social dialogue and networking (bringing together Croatia's tourism trade associations)...

Our efforts add up to over 15 successfully implemented projects on a wide variety of topics and just as many instrumental partnerships. You could describe us as a team of seasoned project professionals interested in pursuing new ideas and – above all, on building on decades of indispensable value.

If the last hundred years are any indication of what lays ahead for our trade, the future is bright and exciting and UHPA is here for it. Let's welcome it together.

Travelife

Implementation of the internationally recognized Travelife system for sustainable and responsible business of Croatian travel agencies and tour operators

The mission of UHPA is to contribute to the sustainable development of Croatian tourism and to enhance the competitiveness of members in line with the values of corporate social responsibility, total quality management and individual business specialization.

Socially responsible and sustainable business is a key prerequisite for quality assurance and competitive growth of Croatian travel agencies and tour operators on the international market, and as such is recognized by UHPA, the leading professional association in tourism in Croatia.

Companies working towards sustainability score better on business efficiency, customer satisfaction, staff motivation and with positive effects on their competitive advantage. Companies that practice socially responsible and sustainable business also expect their business partners in destinations to comply with the basic principles and requirements of socially responsible and sustainable business, international and national laws and regulations.

More and more travel agencies and tour operators expect socially responsible and sustainable business from their suppliers through the implementation of internationally recognized standards and requirements and include them as binding provisions in their contracts.

Strengthening the capacities of UHPA members in the field of sustainable and responsible tourism development is realized through various projects at the national and international level.

Our members recognize the value of our project activities by participating in our workshops and trainings, applying the acquired knowledge in their operations and sharing their experiences and expertise with others. UHPA projects are also recognized for their tourism policy value in the Republic of Croatia and they contribute to the quality of the sustainable development of tourism in our country.

UHPA and Travelife

Over the years, UHPA has focused its project activities on socially responsible business models and the sustainable development of tourism. It all started in 2010 with our first EU project EOS CODE: Principles of sustainable business in tourism, evolving to a fully-fledged cooperation with Travelife, the world's leading initiative for training, management and certification of travel companies dedicated to the sustainable development of tourism.

UHPA and Travelife for Tour Operators, an internationally recognized sustainability certification program for the tourism industry (managed by ECEAT, a not-for-profit organisation based in the Netherlands) established a strategic partnership 12 years ago. The partnership aims to promote sustainable tourism in Croatia by enabling UHPA's members to implement Travelife standards. This is in keeping with UHPA's commitment to promoting sustainable tourism practices in Croatia.

UHPA and ECEAT were project partners on two substantial EU project initiatives:

- CSR-TOUR, a project financed through the Lifelong Education Program Leonardo da Vinci - Transfer of Innovations, bringing together the business and education sectors to promote sustainability in Croatia, Greece, Latvia, Poland, the Netherlands and Great Britain. The two-year project resulted in over 200 travel agencies accepting the Travelife system. More than 750 personal certificates for Travelife sustainability managers have been distributed. During the training, more than 600 students developed new knowledge and competences for sustainability in tourism. More than 80 examples of good practice from travel agencies from Croatia, Greece, Latvia, Poland, the Netherlands and Great Britain were collected.
- SUSTOUR, a project co-financed by the European Commission under the COSME programme (Program for the Competitiveness of Small and Medium Enterprises). SUSTOUR aimed to foster the capacities and skills of 175+ travel agents and tour operators (SME's) to integrate sustainability principles within their companies and supply chains. It did so by providing support through training, management systems, standards and solutions, which improved their sustainable management and performance and helped to open up new market opportunities. Over the course of three years, the SUSTOUR support programme for Travelife Partner/Certified helped 500+ participating SME's with training and coaching support to implement basic and/or advanced sustainability measures in their companies and become awarded by the internationally leading sustainability certification scheme for tour operators and travel agents, including eleven SME's from Croatia.

For UHPA and its members, 2012 was a strategic turning point – our dedication to doing business sustainably and protecting the industry for future generations lead us to a formal commitment and partnership with Travelife. By implementing Travelife standards, UHPA members – DMC's, tour operators and travel agencies, demonstrate their commitment to sustainability and differentiate themselves in an increasingly competitive global marketplace. In doing so, they are making a global impact and contributing to a brighter future of tourism altogether.

Tomislav Fain

At Travelife, we value our long-term strategic partnership with UHPA, recognizing their role as one of the leading associations in Europe regarding sustainability. UHPA's commitment to sustainability and its proactive approach to supporting its members have been exemplary. Their involvement in the recent EU-funded COSME Sustour project has inspired other national European travel associations to follow suit. In recent years, we have observed a significant breakthrough in the importance of sustainability within the broader market, extending beyond niche segments. This shift is also being driven by upcoming EU legislation on the communication of Green Claims and the sustainability reporting obligations for larger companies. These regulatory changes are set to enhance transparency and accountability, further emphasizing the role of sustainability in our industry.

About Travelife

Travelife is a leading certification system dedicated to achieving sustainable practices within the tourism industry. More than 40 national travel associations, including UHPA, support the system. The scheme has two sections: Travelife for Hotels (managed by ABTA - the British Travel Association) and Travelife for Tour Operators (managed by ECEAT). It is the only sustainable supply chain management system made specifically for tour operators and travel agencies that provides companies with realistic sustainability goals, tools and solutions to implement positive change within their businesses and supply chains.

Travelife for Tour operators and Travel agents: The scheme provides online training and practical tools for sustainability management and certification. The training and online tools are suitable for tour operators and travel agencies of any size and cover all management aspects of the travel company business including office operations, the supply chain, destinations and consumers. When fulfilling a set of basic sustainability standards, the company is awarded the „Travelife Partner“ status, an intermediate step towards certification. Upon complying with the more elaborate Travelife Certified standard (based on an independent onsite audit), the company (tour operator/travel agency) can obtain the „Travelife Certified“ status.

The Travelife standard for Tour operators and Travel agencies is based upon the full Corporate Social Responsibility themes, including labour conditions, human rights, environment, biodiversity and fair business practices. The management requirements are compatible with EMAS and ISO 14001. To learn more about Travelife please visit www.travelife.info.

Mr Josip Mijoč

Žabac travel agency was founded in 2014, evolving its business activities in two directions. The first is the advancement of tourist transfer services. We have our own fleet of vehicles, which makes us competitive on the tourist transfers market. The second refers to market placement with a wide range of our own, custom services like trips and excursions for groups, schools, pilgrimages and parties across Croatia and abroad. We are proud of the many awards, accolades and plaques for our contribution to the development of the Neretva valley area. Branch office in Zagreb.

UNTOUCHED NATURE OF NATIONAL PARKS AND NATURE PARKS

Wherever you go in Croatia, you will encounter untouched beauty, a nature park, or a national park. Sustainability as the future of tourism in Croatia further emphasizes the value of such natural resources and their additional protection and preservation. In the rest of the text, we will travel from east to west and north to south of Croatia and pass through the fairy-tale beauty of nature.

Kopački Rit Nature Park

A haven for birds, home to hundreds of species. Nestled in a natural triangle formed by the Danube and Drava rivers, it boasts the largest internal delta of the Danube. This area is one of Europe's most extensive wetlands, constantly changing with each visit offering a fresh perspective on nature.

Papuk Nature Park

The peaks of Papuk emerge from the depths of the ancient Pannonian Sea, reaching nearly one thousand meters above sea level. This geologically diverse region is Croatia's first UNESCO Geopark. The mountain layers unveil a history that has transformed the landscape—from the Pannonian Sea to the grandeur of centuries-old beech trees.

Lonjsko Polje Nature Park

Lonjsko Polje is one of Europe's largest and best-preserved natural floodplains. It holds a unique place among European natural wonders: it is one of the last areas in Europe where traditional grazing practices are still maintained, with livestock freely roaming large communal pastures. Additionally, it is home to Europe's first designated "stork village."

Risnjak National Park

Amid the forest expanses of Gorski Kotar, two prominent mountain massifs, Risnjak and Snježnik, stand just three kilometers apart, their stony facades resembling twin peaks. In the park's lower regions, the Kupa River, often considered Croatia's most beautiful river, begins its long journey.

Učka Nature Park

Učka, the highest mountain in Istria, showcases how humans can coexist with the mountain environment. People have survived here for centuries by tending to domestic animals, cultivating the land, and using the forest. Dry stone walls, shepherd's huts, and field shelters are silent, steadfast witnesses to Učka's unique ecosystem.

Brijuni National Park

The Brijuni Islands were formed by separating from the Istrian peninsula. Brijuni exemplifies the harmony between nature and human cultivation, designed to provide a pleasant experience amidst lush vegetation, beautifully maintained landscapes, and the refreshing proximity of the sea.

Medvednica Nature Park

A green mountain overlooks a city with nearly a million residents. Human presence in Medvednica dates back 45,000 years to when Neanderthals inhabited the Veternica cave. Today, the hill is home to 18 bat species. As suggested by its name, derived from the Croatian word for bear, Medvednica once had a large bear population.

Žumberak – Samobor highlands Nature Park

The mountainous region of Žumberak and Samobor is among the least inhabited areas in Croatia. Life here has always demanded adaptation to the laws of nature. This mosaic of preserved traditional landscapes, rich flora and fauna, geological features, and valuable archaeological findings attracts today's hikers, mountain climbers, and nature enthusiasts.

Plitvice Lakes National Park

Lake gardens linked by cascades and embraced by mountain forests, Plitvice Lakes showcase nature's majestic and ever-changing beauty. While science explains the formation of the lakes and tufa barriers, water has always held mythical significance for the people of karst regions.

Northern Velebit National Park

“People who know the mountain best describe its incredible diversity with the phrase, ‘One life is simply not enough to get to know Velebit.’ Velebit may not be Croatia's tallest mountain, but it is undoubtedly the most celebrated. It serves as a backbone connecting the northern and southern parts of the country and is a source of national pride, steeped in tales of fairies and breathtaking beauty.

Velebit Nature Park

Viewed above, Velebit resembles a colossal stone giant, a formidable divide between land and sea. Yet, for many, describing Velebit transcends biology, geography, or speleology. They speak of the mountain as if it beckoned to them—a powerful, silent invitation crafted from stone.

Paklenica National Park

The towering ravines of Velika Paklenica and Mala Paklenica evoke a sense of awe, leaving no room for indifference beneath the towering peaks of Velebit Mountain. Nature's power and grandeur are displayed here, yet it also reveals its mercy to those who respect it. Paklenica is renowned for its highest peaks and offers a challenging rock-climbing experience.

Dinara Nature Park

Our most recent addition, designated in February 2021, likely takes its name from the ancient Illyrian tribe, the Dindari, who historically grazed their livestock on this mountain. Dinara is the highest peak in the Republic of Croatia, and it was near its foothills that the first Croatian state was established.

Telašćica Nature Park

Welcome to Telašćica, where the Adriatic's steepest white cliffs plunge 162 meters into the azure sea. Telašćica, Croatia's largest and most beautiful Adriatic bay, captivates with its myriad coves, capes, and rock formations, providing a secure haven for sailors.

Vransko Lake Nature Park

Located in a Mediterranean climate, Vransko Lake is the largest natural lake and one of the largest wetland areas in Croatia's Mediterranean region. It serves as a sanctuary for endangered birds and hosts approximately one hundred thousand water birds during winter.

Kornati National Park

The Kornati archipelago, a labyrinth of stone comprising eighty-nine islands, islets, and rocks in the sea, stands as the most intricately indented island group in the Mediterranean. Whether viewed from the air, sea, or islands' lookout points, the sight is consistently awe-inspiring yet uniquely different each time.

Krka National Park

We could dub them the Magnificent Seven: Bilušića buk, Brljan, Manojlovac, Rošnjak, Miljacka slap, Roški slap, and Skradinski buk. These are the tufa cascades of the Krka River, often regarded as the most breathtaking azure thread of the Dalmatian karst. Each cascade is a stunning display, accompanied by a lively symphony of water.

Biokovo Nature Park

Biokovo, a mountain rooted in the sea and reaching into the clouds, offers unparalleled rewards with each step towards its highest peak, Sveti Jure, towering at 1,762 meters above sea level. The summit unveils panoramic vistas of the sea, islands, Dalmatian hinterland, Bosnia and Herzegovina's mountains, and neighboring Italy.

Mljet National Park

Mljet, known as the green island, is steeped in myth and history and is often referred to as the Ogygia of Homer's Odyssey. Legend has it that Calypso, the nymph and lover of the Greek hero Odysseus, chose this island as her home. The island's beauty rivaled her own, convincing Odysseus to stay for years.

Lastovo Archipelago Nature Park

Imagine visiting a place where the sea is so evident that you can see the seabed even at depths of around fifty meters. A place where traditions are so revered that foreigners were once asked to pledge respect for island customs. Visiting here leaves an indelible mark on your memory, as even the Greek god Zeus recognized it as one of the world's most beautiful islands.

About Croatia

General information

Geographic position

Croatia occupies the largest part of the eastern coast of the Adriatic Sea which, as a part of the Mediterranean Sea, penetrates deep into the European continent. Croatia's shoreline and numerous islands fall within the majority of the Adriatic coastline. The narrow Dinara Mountain Range separates the country's Mediterranean region from its Central European continental part, which spans from the easterly edges of the Alps in the North-West to the shores of the Danube in the East, encompassing the southern part of the fertile Pannonian lowlands. Croatia became the 28th member of the European Union in 2013.

Surface area

The mainland covers an area of 56,594 km<sup>2</sup> and coastal waters cover a surface area of 31,479 km<sup>2</sup>. The coastline is 6,278 km long, of which 4,398 km is made up of island coastlines, solitary rocks and reefs.

Population

Croatia has 3,871,833 inhabitants.

Highest peak

Dinara, 1,831 m above sea level.

Climate

The mean annual temperature in Croatia ranges from 3°C in the highest mountain areas, to 17°C along the coast and on the islands of the middle and southern Adriatic, due to geographical position and the influence of the sea. Summer temperatures range on average from 26 to 30°C on the coast, 22 to 26°C in the continental areas and 15 to 20°C in the mountains. Winter temperatures range from 5 to 10°C on the coast, -1 to 10°C in the continental areas and -5 to 0°C in the mountains.

Brod and Posavina County

The gourmet Route in the heart of Slavonia

On the gourmet route of the Brod-Posavina County, you will be greeted by excellent kulin spicy sausages, fragrant cabbage rolls, spicy kettle dishes - meat and fish stews, as well as game dishes, you will discover carp fish on a stick, and satisfy your sweet tooth with famous Slavonian cakes...

And nowhere else will you have the opportunity to taste the Cernik čupteti - baked spicy finger food made from dough with pork lard, filled with the same stuffing that is used to fill delicious Slavonian sausages. Once a snack that was enjoyed during kolinje, Slavonia's traditional pork processing festivity, čupteti originated from Cernik near Nova Gradiška. Today they are an original delicacy, a great accompaniment to craft beers or premium wines, perfect as an appetizer or a snack.

In the spirit of good old customs, the best prelude to the hedonistic story of this part of Slavonia is a fragrant plum or quince brandy, or perhaps something more original, like a beer brandy.

For lovers of excellent wines, there are the Brodski Stupnik, Oriovac, Petrovo Selo, Cernik i Nova Gradiška vineyards, which include Kovačevac and Slavča. There are twenty wineries on our county wine roads where you can toast with Graševina, Rhine Riesling, Chardonnay, Pinot Gris and Pinot Noir, Cabernet Sauvignon, Cabernet Franc, Merlot...

You will find the smells and tastes of the Brod-Posavina County under the brand Okusi graničarskog Posavlja in about twenty establishments - restaurants, farms, ranches and family estates.

Krapina-Zagorje County

Taste the uniqueness of “Zagorje – A fairy tale at hand”

Thermal baths and visits to natural splendours and cultural landmarks such as castles are ideas which require energy and they also – quite logically, work up an appetite. Familiar with just about every aspect of life in the region, the people of Zagorje offer rich and often high calory authentic dishes that will satisfy everyone’s appetite. The fact that local products are used to prepare Zagorje’s specialties is exactly what gives the cuisine its special touch. What are the specialties of Zagorje? Roast turkey with mlinci definitely takes the number one spot, often being the main star on dining tables during holidays. Then, Zagorski štrukli, characterized by their simplicity, but enriched with magnificent flavours, can be served to make a full course menu.

While there probably isn't a restaurant in Zagorje that does not offer Zagorski štrukli, the soup called Zagorska juha, with mushrooms, potatoes and bacon, is also often on the list of Zagorje's traditional dishes. Likewise, pork cracklings are Zagorje's authentic snack, well-worth taking back home. They can be eaten on their own, with bread or as an addition to other dishes; they go especially well with onions. Homemade and fresh, cheese with sour cream and zlevanka pie are definitely worth tasting during your stay in Zagorje. To top it all off, a glass of fine Zagorje wine goes hand in hand with these delicious dishes.

One of the world's most treasured cheeses is produced on the island of Pag, fine wines have been coming from the surrounding vineyards for 3000 years, and the best and highest quality olive oil has been produced from the region's many olive groves. Enjoy the olive oil with fresh fish and seafood – and, if you are a meat lover, don't miss tasting Pag's famous lamb cuts, succulent and tasty, as anyone who has ever tried them will confess. This region is rich in another essential spice that makes every dish a little more special – salt.

The salt pans in Pag and Nin have traditionally collected and produced their top-quality products for centuries, with minimal changes over time to how they work. The result is pure, actual sea salt that perfectly works with the region's other treasures: fish, lamb, and olive oil, which local restaurants turn into real gastronomic works of art. True gourmets and hedonists know that top-quality food deserves the company of top-quality wines. This region has strong trump cards for that matter because local winemakers regularly take international prizes home at the some of the world's most prestigious wine festivals.
